LEWIS J. LIMAN, United States District Judge:

The parties are directed to appear for a telephonic conference with respect to the request for sealing by EVRYTHNG on January 3, 2022 at 2:00 p.m. Parties are directed to dial (888) 251-2909, use access code 2123101, and follow the necessary prompts. In the past, EVRYTHNG has requested sealing for information that plainly is not entitled to sealing, multiplying work for the Court. At the conference, EVRYTHNG should be prepared to identify by docket number a filing which contains representative information that requires sealing under the stringent standards set by the Second Circuit in Lugosch v. Pyramid Company of Onondaga, 435 F.3d 110 (2d Cir. 2006) and then to identify by page number and paragraph number each of the limited items for which it requests sealing (besides client names, as to which the Court will permit sealing). In advance of the conference, EVRYTHNG should inform the Court, by e-mail to LimanNYSDCChambers@nysd.uscourts.gov, the particular filing the Court should have available to review during the January 3rd conference. The Court will rule on each item one-by-one during the conference, and the Court's ruling will apply to that information in every filing in which it appears (it being the case that the same information frequently appears in more than one filing). This will be the last time the Court addresses sealing with respect to the documents previously filed under seal.

After the conference, the Court will give EVRYTHNG one week to file revised versions of the documents with proposed redactions pending on the docket as of January 3, 2022. The only redactions that should appear in these documents are those which the Court explicitly allowed by its rulings during the January 3, 2022 conference and client names. If, in those documents, EVRYTHNG redacts additional information (besides client names) as to which it was not given permission to make redactions during the January 3, 2022 conference, the Court will consider EVRYTHNG to have forfeited its right to file papers with redactions and will unseal in their entirety the previous filings made by EVRYTHNG.

SO ORDERED.
